At last, pictures of the critical part of the Series I.

Enclosed are three photos that should be interesting to you and to your buyers and prospects.

As you can see, the Series I is a serious automobile and has technology that will be the equal to, if not better, than anything available anywhere in the world.

With the body on and all panels in place, the Series I is 2" shorter than a Porsche Boxster

Both the front and rear suspension are of the rocker type with coil-over springs and shocks inboard. The suspension is fully adjustable and we will help each buyer select what is most appropriate for his personal use when he takes delivery.

Suspension members are hung from cast aluminum members that have been machined. It looks like what it is, a beautifully engineered automobile and it will fulfill the promise of being a race car for the street.

We have begun the initial production run on the chassis. As you know, there is a lot of testing yet to be done including front, rear and side crash tests.

More news as it becomes available.
